It was the autumn of the year 1620 when the pilgrims came to America. The first winter was very hard. They were cold and hungry.

They eat turkey, sweet potatoes and pumpkin pie for dessert. They "Thank you" God for the good things they have in their lives: family, friends, love, peace ...

Native Americans gave them food and clothes and help the Pilgrims to build their houses, to plant and grow the seeds of corn that had brought, to hunt the animals that they could eat.

						Thanksgiving

Nowadays, people in the U.S.A. have a Thanksgiving Day. It's on the last Thursday in November. On this day people go to visit their families and have traditional dinner together.

When autumn came the corn was ripe and the Pilgrims had a plenty harvest.

At the end of the harvest they made a great feast to celebrate and to thank the Indians for their help. They ate turkey, corn and pumpkins. This was the First Thanksgiving Day.
